James C. Coffman

Jim Coffman is celebrating 25 years of service to Potomac State College. Before his employment at the College, he worked for Virginia Electric and Allegheny Quarries.

Jim began his work at Potomac State as a custodian and moved into maintenance. He has also found time to serve on the Board of Directors of the West Virginia Farm Bureau.

Jim and his wife, Donna, have two daughters, Tonia Treutle and Cynthia Coffman.

Farming remains Jim's favorite hobby.

Robert V. Doll

Bob Doll is being honored this evening after his retirement from the College with 32 years of service.

Bob was born, raised, and currently resides in Antioch, West Virginia. He attended New Creek Elementary and Keyser High School. Bob was a self-employed truck driver prior to coming to work at Potomac State in 1968. He began his employment at the College as a custodian in Science Hall. He held that position from 1968 to 1971, at which time he joined the maintenance staff as locksmith.

Bob has one daughter, Roxie O'Conner, and two grandchildren, Jarrod and Kaitlin.

Bob's plans for his retirement include hunting, fishing, and spending time with his grandchildren.

James M. Hoey

Jim Hoey is being honored for his 25 years on the faculty, previously as Coordinator of Information Technology and now as Professor. He is also Vice Chair of the Advisory Council of Faculty and a member of EDUCAUSE.

Earlier work was with the U. S. Merchant Marine, Litton Industries, and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company. He is retired from USNR.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two sons, Adam and Ryan.

Jim enjoys golf and tennis.

Trevor A. Owen

Trevor Owen is celebrating his 25 years of teaching English and humanities at Potomac State College. Earlier teaching took him many places—from Minnesota to Egypt.

Founder and chair of the Honors Program and co-founder of the Shakespeare and Renaissance Association of West Virginia, he has also published a book and an encyclopedia article on Lancelot Andrewes and a book on John Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress.

Trevor and his wife, Patricia, have two sons, Alexander and Stephen, and one grandson, Connor Alexander Owen.

Besides reading, Trevor also enjoys movies and opera.

Charlotte A. Rawlings

This evening, Charlotte Rawlings celebrates her retirement from having worked as a variously-titled accountant in the Business Office. Charlotte's affiliation with schools began at Antioch Elementary. Between that school and Potomac State College, she worked in Keyser for Union Finance Company and in California for the 3M Company and Hunt Foods.

Her husband, Loren, has accompanied her through 46 years of her adventures. Loren and Charlotte have five children—Debbie, Brenda, Donna, Misty, and Clay—and seven grandchildren.

Charlotte looks forward to many happy events with Loren and their family and to more time for her reading.

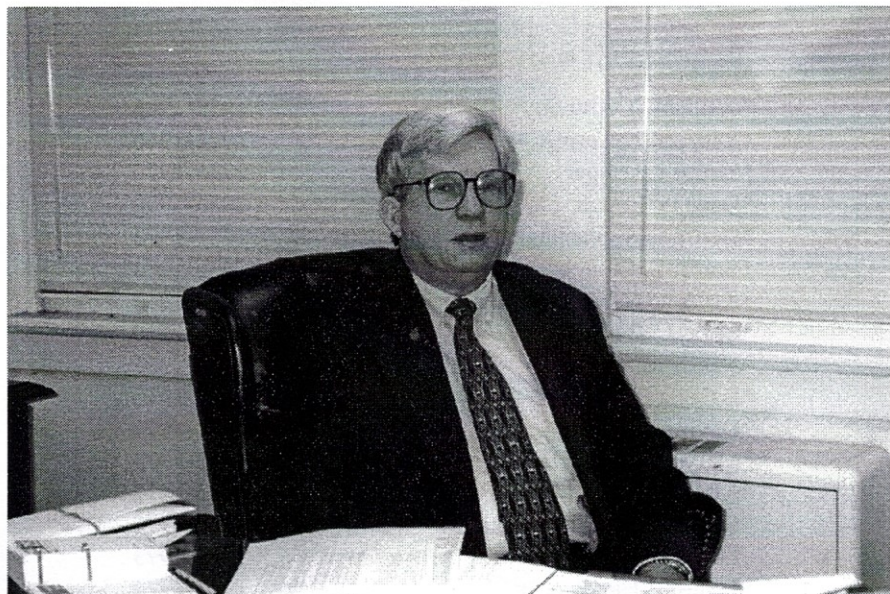

Gary A. Seldomridge

Gary Seldomridge has taught mathematics at Potomac State College for 25 years. Some of us have decided to forgive him for starting college at Davis and Elkins rather than Potomac State.

Away from the College, Gary has built furniture, served as an assistant soccer coach, and worked with the Eastern Region Library Board.

Gary and his wife, Debbie, have two children, Sarah and Daniel.

Many feel that Gary's most outstanding trait may be what he calls his "disturbed sense of humor."

Charles H. Via

Charles Via has retired after 14 years as Director of Admissions and Records. For a decade before that, he had served in a like position at Piedmont Community College. For another decade before that, he was a counselor and Financial Aid Officer at Lord Fairfax Community College.

During his years of service to the College, he attempted to improve the organization. He also attempted—usually with success—to go to Florida more often than most of us get to Cumberland!

Now that Charles is not shackled to his duties in the corner office, we bid him “bon voyage” as he heads for France, Ireland, and Amsterdam. We know, of course, that, for Charles, Florida is on the way to all those other places.
